Wentworth Cleaned Sedalia.

The Wentworth football team ran all over the team representing the Central Business College of Sedalia Monday afternoon on the campus, defeating them by a score of 74 to 0. Several of the members of the Sedalia team showed the effects of their visits to Block 42 and for a while it was thought that the game would be cancelled. The Sedalians finally decided to line up, although they were not in fit condition to play.

Cook made three touchdowns in the first five minutes of play. The Sedalia team then got possession of the ball for the first time, but lost it on a fumble a few minutes later. The cadets during the remainder of the half made touchdowns at will and the half ended with Wentworth 32 points ahead. The cadets made 42 points in the second half. Moore, Wentworth's star fullback, had the misfortune to sprain his ankle and had to be taken out of the game.

DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve penetrates the pores thoroughly cleanses—and is healing and soothing. Good for piles. Sold by Leroy Farmer.

Appendicitis.

Is due to a large measure to abuse of the bowels, by employing drastic purgatives. To avoid all danger, use only Dr. King's New Life Pills, the safe, gentle cleansers and invigorators. Guaranteed for headache, biliousness, malaria and jaundice, at Crenshaw & Young's drug store. 25c.

Chas. Kincaid took Fred Bowers, charged with larceny to Wellington Monday for his preliminary hearing. Bowers, it is alleged, stole some mining tools from Carter's mine. He was arrested at Millville Saturday.

Mrs. Mollie Zeller arrived from Kansas City Tuesday evening for a short visit with relatives.

Walter D. Glasscock returned Monday from a trip through the West.

SLATER DEFEATED

Dan Ruebel's Boys Made Good Showing. However.

The Wentworth second team Saturday managed to clean up the Slater High School by a score of 23 to 4; but for a time after the game started it looked as if the cadets were up against it. The Saline county boys had been coached to the minute and started off with a dash that for a time took the soldiers off their feet. The weight and endurance of the home team finally told, however, and they won the game handily.

Three minutes after the whistle blew, Slater by a forty yard run on a fake and a pretty place kick by Switzer chalked up the first score. Immediately after this Wentworth kicked off. On the first line-up Slater punted. The ball hit the ground and Bridges, the Slater full back picked it up. He got to the 15 yard line before he was overtaken by Welsh. The cadets blocked an attempted place kick and after that had things their own way.

For Slater Ruebel, Bridges and Switzer starred. For the scrubs Cook, H. Campbell, Welsh, Wyatt, Wilmoth and Groves did the most showy work.

The line up:
WENTWORTH
Sellers LE
Meyers LT
Jepson LG
Coutillas C
Engel Tinker RG
Barnett RT
Groves RE
Campbell Q

For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alternative and body builder; best of all for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by Crenshaw & Young druggist. 50c.

Ayers-Schneider.

Word was received by friends Tuesday that Grover Ayers and Miss Mary Schneider were married in Kansas City Sunday. This announcement caused much surprise in the circles where these two young people were known.

The groom used to live here but lately has lived in Kansas City and St. Joseph. The bride was educated in the Lexington public schools and was a typesetter in the INTELLIGENCER office several years. She is a nice, faithful, and attractive girl and will undoubtedly be a good wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayers will live in St. Joseph.

Richard Hays of St. Louis, arrived from Kansas City Monday for a short stay on business.

Albert Edmonds of Kansas City visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Edmonds here Sunday.

Mrs. M. C. McFaddin went to Kansas City Saturday evening for a few days' visit with relatives.

The finest coffee substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute," says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest coffee imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real coffee in it. Health coffee imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. Sold by Jos. L. Long.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Bell, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

Kodol Digests What You Eat. Relieves indigestion, sour stomach, belching of gas, etc.

MOOSE ATTACKS A HORSE.

And the Horse Retorts in Kind—An Incident of the Maine Woods.

Three young men from Milltown, near Calais, went out into the country districts recently to pass the day and left their old horse standing under the shade of the whispering pines while they communed with nature some little distance away, according to the Kennebec Journal. They were startled by the neighing and snorting of their steed and upon reaching the spot where the animal was tied they witnessed an exciting encounter between a bull moose and the horse. The monarch of the forest just happened along and found the horse encroaching upon his domain and very naturally resented the intrusion. He made a run for the unfortunate steed and a bow-on collision was almost a sure thing, when the old horse's fighting blood got up and, instead of waiting to be rammed like a fishing boat in a fog, he stood up on his hind legs and caught the bull moose a swat fair upon the nose with both forefeet. Both animals sat down suddenly to think the matter over, the moose from the surprise of the shock, and the horse because he lost his balance, and it would doubtless have gone hard with the latter, which was incumbered with the harness and rigging, had not the young men set upon the forest king with yells just as he was about to resume the attack upon his helpless adversary. Any one who remembers the noise which a Milltown man is capable of making when out for a good time will pardon the moose for his sudden and undignified retreat.

FIRST VISIT TO THE COUNTRY.

Humorous Comment Made by Little Visitors from the City.

The questions and answers of little boys and girls upon their first visit to the country are often truly amusing. One little boy from the city slums was, with great difficulty, coaxed to go. He said he heard there were "thrashing machines" in the country, and he didn't want to go there to be thrashed. The same little boy, when asked why the chickens interested him so greatly, replied, "I've only seen them that's been pecked in the city." Another little boy once went to the country on a visit. Seeing his aunt plucking the feathers from a chicken that evening, he asked: "Auntie, do you undress all the chickens before putting them to bed?" The cows were favorites with Lottie, a little girl of eight. She begged to be permitted to milk, and, finding herself rather unsuccessful, thought she'd "better begin on a calf first." Lottie also wanted to know if you had to buy gum for the cows to chew on and whether the milk that came from a separator was the same that came from the cows. She thought it was so funny, too, that "all hens ate with their noses."

Berlin's Woman Chauffeur.

Berlin's woman chauffeur is making—as she always intended to do—a very good livelihood. Clad in a simple but becoming coat and skirt of serviceable material, Frau von Papp drives one of the Badag company's electro droschkes with consummate skill. She is not, however, at the beck and call of the general public, but is in the employment of the Kaiserhof hotel, and drives its visitors alone. The woman's story is interesting. Her husband—an apparently well-to-do lawyer—died, leaving her and three young children penniless. Frau von Papp always had a fondness for automobiling, and quickly decided upon her profession. Having satisfied the police authorities as to her capabilities, she obtained her present post and is keeping herself and family in comfort.

Only Thing Left.

The schoolmaster was trying to teach his class composition, and he was having great difficulty. Said he: "If I should ask, 'What have I in my hand?' the answer should be, 'You have an apple in your hand.' 'Now, suppose I should ask, 'What have I on my feet?' what should you say?' 'Shoes,' was the first reply. 'Stockings,' replied another boy. 'No,' said the teacher impatiently, 'both of you are wrong. Remember what I have just said.' For a moment no one seemed anxious to try to answer the question; but at last a lad raised his hand with an air which said quite plainly that he was perfectly sure of his knowledge. 'Corns!' he shouted triumphantly.

Success and Business.

"I suppose it is necessary that business should be transacted; though the amount of business that does not contribute to anybody's comfort or improvement suggests the query whether it is not overdone. I know that unremitting attention to business is the price of success, but I don't know what success is. There is a man, who we all know, who built a house that cost 4 million dollars, and furnished it for another like sum, who does not know anything more about architecture, or painting, or books, or history, than he cares for the rights of those who have not so much money as he has.—Charles Dudley Warner.

Caused Him to Warble.

"How funny! Grandpa has been singing like a bird all the morning." "Yes, that is on account of the mistake the dear old gentleman made at breakfast. 'What mistake?' 'Why, he made a porridge out of the package of birdseed and thought it was a package of oatmeal."

STUCK TO HAM AND EGGS.

Why Drummer Made Breakfast Dish His Great Standby.

"It's funny how a man will get into the habit of eating something that he doesn't really like," remarked a drummer. "I have been traveling mostly through small towns for the last two months and have had to put up at some pretty sad hotels. The result is that I have fallen into the habit of eating ham and eggs and not much else, about twice a day and sometimes three times a day. I never used to eat eggs at home and I never cared much for any salt meats, but I've got the habit now and I order ham and eggs, even when I have an elaborate menu in front of me at a big hotel. The reason is simply that in small towns ham and eggs are about the only things you can afford to take a chance on. It is seldom that you get packed eggs, because fresh eggs are cheap enough in small places, and then, no matter how inexperienced the cook is, he can fry or boil you some eggs. Then they nearly always have good ham. Occasionally I add boiled potatoes to my small hotel menu, because they can hardly give you the worst of it on them, either. But ham and eggs are the standby."

Surely Went to Her Reward.

"Worked to Death" was the verdict of a London coroner's jury in the case of Isabella Thurgood, a widow 77 years old, who died after a hard day at the washtub. "I think the Lord is calling me, but I am ready," she said just before she passed away.

Cure Your Dandruff

Why? Because it is annoying, untidy. And mostly, because it almost invariably leads to baldness. Cure it, and save your hair. Get more, too, at the same time. All easily done with Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula. Stop this formation of dandruff!

Does not change the color of the hair.

Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

The new Ayer's Hair Vigor will certainly do this work, because, first of all, it destroys the germs which are the original cause of dandruff. Having given this aid, nature completes the cure. The scalp is restored to a perfectly healthy condition.

WHERE WATER IS COSTLY.

Little of the Precious Fluid is Wasted in Death Valley.

The nearest water supply of which Death valley camp could even occasionally avail itself was at Ash Meadows, nearly 40 miles away, on the Twenty-mile trail between Johnny and Death valley, writes David Brandon in The World To-Day. Kelly's well, previously mentioned, provided better water, but it had to be hauled farther, much of the way up a heavy grade, and the tremendous daily strain on that oasis by the desert mule skinner, freighters, left little to spare. Water had to be hauled into camp in barrels, therefore, on six, eight, ten and twelve-team wagons, and the supply on hand was always woefully inadequate. At best, water cost ten dollars a barrel, generally $15; often the price was one dollar for half a gallon, and by no means infrequently a glassful required $50 cents. A "body snatcher," as the citizen of Death valley is called, we were told, makes a basin of water go far. Part of it fills the coffee pot; the remainder, face and hands having been washed in it several times, suffices for the small laundry necessities and is then given to the burro to drink.

DIET THAT VARIES LITTLE.

German Workmen Take Many "Snacks" During the Day.

I was told at 8:30 it was time for luncheon, writes an American tin-smith working in Leipzig. On stating that I did not care to eat, he told me that it would be better if I did no work, so I sat down for half an hour and watched the others. At noon we had an hour and a half, and at four o'clock 15 minutes for lunch. It may be of interest to some readers to know what the German eats. For his first breakfast he generally has a milk roll and a cup of coffee. The second breakfast is almost always a slice of bread with lard or goose oil, a piece of sausage or cheese and a bottle of beer. For dinner he has two slices of bread as above, with a herring or large green pickle, cheese or sausage and another bottle of beer. For lunch another bottle of beer and a milk roll. For supper soup and potatoes. This is the general variety of foods we had for the four months I worked in that shop, and they had it day in and day out.

Value of Science.

Science for science's sake, science as a cult, pleads Prof. Raphael Meldola, president of the Chemical Society of Great Britain. Scientific research is worthy of national homage whether it leads to immediately practical results or not. Any country which limits its appreciation of research to such branches of science as are likely to lead to industrial developments is low in the scale of civilization. The works of the litterateur or artist appeal directly to the public and can be appreciated according to their merits. Not so the labors of the scientific investigator. His achievements are measured largely by the utilitarian standard, and certainly cannot be said to occupy the same position as sister branches of culture. Prof. Meldola has no desire to give countenance to antagonism between pure and applied science. Far from this being the case the rate of progress is actually measurable by the degree of substitution of pure science for empiricism.

Prize for British Museum.

Miss Harriet Chichele Plowden, of Folkestone, has left to the British Museum the original manuscripts of Beethoven's first sonata for violin and piano and Mozart's ten great string quartets. The Mozart manuscripts cost Miss Plowden's father less than $70 in an auction in 1847.
